Overview of Home

Warrior Park provides residential and nursing care for up to 48 residents.

The general standard of care at Warrior Park is good and staff display caring attitudes towards residents. Care plans are mostly person centred and updated in a timely manner however there have been occasions during the latest period of review when some gaps in recording were identified.

The National Early Warning Score (NEWS) usage during the latest period was also inconsistent. NEWS is a tool that the service has at its disposal and is important for the detection and response to clinical deterioration in residents.

Summary of Outcomes

The service has been able to provide enough evidence to show that they are performing well in a number of key areas including Safeguarding, Medication and Health & Safety.

However, it was identified that staff had received infrequent supervision and appraisal during the latest period of review. Staffing is an important element and the manager must ensure that a full schedule of individual support is delivered in 2023.

Overall, Grade 1 status awarded.

1 - Assessment & Review

Determination - Fully Met

All people receiving the service have a written care plan that is monitored. However, it was noted that some of the care plans reviewed contained gaps in monthly reviews and it was sometimes not possible to determine if the information was up to date. Sometimes reviews were also light on detail and signatures were not missing.

People's physical, mental health and social needs are holistically assessed, and their care, treatment and support is delivered in line with legislation, standards and guidance, to achieve effective outcomes.

People's care records were generally accurate, complete, and legible. However, some gaps in monthly reviews were identified. Information was securely stored and available to relevant staff so that they support people to stay safe.

Technology and equipment is used to enhance the delivery of care and support, and to promote people's independence. However, although usage increased towards the end of 2022, NEWS data shows that readings were below the average occupancy levels for most of the year. The manager needs to continue to drive the benefits of this system and ensure staff use it whenever necessary.

Staff work together to ensure that people receive consistent, timely, coordinated, person-centred care.

People's day-to-day health and wellbeing needs are met.

The service ensures that people can understand the information and explanations about their healthcare and treatment options, including medicines, and their likely outcomes.

People are regularly involved in monitoring their health.

People can access care, support and treatment in a timely way and referrals are made quickly to appropriate health services when people's needs change.

People contribute to planning their care and support, with their strengths, levels of independence and quality of life taken into account.

People's care plans generally reflect their physical, mental, emotional and social needs and incorporate their personal history, individual preferences, interests and aspirations.

The service identifies and meets the information and communication needs of people with a disability or sensory loss. Information is recorded, highlighted and shared with others when required with the consent of the person.

The service shares appropriate information and assessments with other relevant agencies for the benefit of people who use the service.

People's preferences and choices for their end of life care are recorded, reviewed and communicated and acted on where possible.

People, and their family, friends and other carers are involved in planning, managing and making decisions about their end of life care including advanced decisions made in line with the Mental Capacity Act 2005.

People are reassured that their pain and other symptoms will be assessed and managed effectively as they approach the end of their life, including having access to support from specialist palliative care professionals.

The service ensures that it quickly identifies people in the last days of life whose condition may be unpredictable and change rapidly and, where required ensures that people have rapid access to support, equipment and medicines.

The service supports people's families, other people using the service and staff when someone dies.

There are arrangements for ensuring that the body of a person who has died is cared for in a culturally sensitive and dignified way.

The Home has demonstrated achievement of this outcome.

2 - MCA & Consent

Determination - Fully Met

Staff recognise when people need and want support from their carers, advocates or representatives to help them understand and be involved in their care, treatment and support and staff help people to get this support. However, a formal process to record when people have been visited, particularly those with RPR's, would make this process more robust.

The service provides information to people, their families and other carers about external bodies, community organisations and advocacy services that can provide independent support and advice about their care, treatment and support.

Staff understand the relevant consent and decision-making requirements of legislation and guidance, including the Mental Capacity Act 2005 and other relevant national guidance.

People are supported and are given the information and explanations they need to make their own decisions in line with relevant legislation and guidance.

Decisions around a person's possible lack of mental capacity are assessed and recorded.

The process for seeking consent is monitored and reviewed to ensure it meets legal requirements and follows relevant national guidance.

When people lack the mental capacity to make a decision, staff ensure that best interest decisions are made in accordance with legislation.

There are arrangements for people to be involved in decisions about managing risks appropriately including positive risk taking.

Risk management policies and procedures are in place to minimise restrictions on people's freedom, choice and control, in particular for people who lack mental capacity.

Staff are trained to understand, prevent and manage people's behaviour that challenges whilst ensuring the individual is supported appropriately.

The Home has demonstrated achievement of this outcome.

3 - DoLS

Determination - Fully Met

The service promotes supportive practice that avoids the need for physical restraint, however where physical restraint is necessary, the service ensures that it is used in a safe, proportionate, and monitored way as part of a person-centred support plan.

Staff recognise when people who lack mental capacity, are being deprived of their liberty and they seek authorisation to do so when considered necessary and proportionate.

All staff are trained to understand the difference between lawful and unlawful restraint practices. Action is taken to minimise the use of restraint.

There is a basic system of monitoring to ensure the person's representative maintains regular contact with the person and acts when contact is not maintained. However, a formal process to record when people have been visited, particularly those with RPR's, would make this process more robust.

The service has a system to monitor DoLS authorisations and their review dates and this is maintained. Care plans contain the most up to date Conditions attached to deprivation of liberty safeguards (DoLS) authorisations.

Management has oversight on the process to ensure where a restriction may actually amount to a deprivation of liberty.

The Home has demonstrated achievement of this outcome.

Outcome 4 - Nutrition & Hydration

Determination - Fully Met

People are involved in decisions about what they eat and drink and their cultural and religious preferences are recorded, reviewed and acted upon.

People have access to dietary and nutritional specialists to help meet their assessed needs if required. There are sufficient quantities of food and drink at mealtimes in line with people's preferences.
