Appeals against Redundancy Dismissal

Constitution of Appeals Committee

Appeals against redundancy dismissal are heard by a duly convened and quorate General Purposes (Appeals and Staffing) Committee of the Council. The Constitution defines the make up of the Committee and how many Members constitute a quorum.

Members who have had any direct prior involvement in the case will be excluded from sitting. The Chief Customer and Workforce Services Officer or representative will attend appeals against redundancy dismissal to provide advice (including procedural and employment law advice) to the Committee and to assist Members generally in establishing the arguments and facts being presented to them.

Normal Council Democratic Services support will be provided to the Committee. The Democratic Services Officer shall record the decision of the Committee but is not present to provide any form of advice other than on administrative matters.

Written Statements

Both management and the employee will be invited to submit written statements of case which will be forwarded to Committee Members 7 days before the hearing. Where both parties have provided statements these will also be exchanged 7 days before the hearing. If one party does not produce a statement, they will receive the other party's statement as early as practicable on the day of the hearing.

Representation and Attendance

The normal procedure will be for the employee plus one representative, and the dismissing manager, the relevant service manager, plus a Workforce Services representative, to attend the hearing and present their cases. Witnesses will be called in turn, to give evidence and will then leave the hearing. It is at the discretion of the Committee to permit either party to bring additional representatives/managers and to decide whether they may attend in an observer or participant capacity.

Decisions

Decisions generally will fall into two categories, namely:

- (a) not allowing the appeal in which case the employees redundancy dismissal is confirmed.
- (b) confirming the process needs to be reviewed. In which case the following options can be considered:
 - (i) the decision to select the post/person is unfair and the process needs to be reviewed. If necessary this may need to be referred back to Members who were involved in the original decision;
 - (ii) the procedure followed has been unfair and the process needs to be reviewed.

During this time, the redundancy notice period will be extended until the outcome of the review is confirmed. The person will remain an employee of the Council with no loss of pay or benefits. Where possible the employee will remain in the post. However, this cannot always be guaranteed and in this instance alternative work will be offered suitable to the grade/position for this period. The employee will remain on the redeployment register during this time.

Following any review the Committee and all parties should reconvene to make a final decision.

The Committee shall give its decision in full detail in the presence of both parties and the Chief Customer and Workforce Services Officer or representative, and clarification may be sought by any party.
