There is a Registered Manager in post.

There are arrangements including within the rotas, for making sure that staffing levels are sufficient, staff have the right mix of skills, competencies, qualifications, experience and knowledge, to meet people's individual needs and personal preferences are accounted for where possible. However, it has been noted that there are some inconsistencies in performance and quality across the different units within the home.

Managers are aware of the day-to-day culture in the service including the attitudes, values and behaviour of staff. The Leadership Team would benefit from more robust quality assurance systems to ensure that day-to-day culture regarding medication, assessment, documentation and staffing is consistent across all units.

The service promotes and supports fairness, transparency and an open culture for staff.

The manager makes sure that staff are supported, respected and valued. Their rights and wellbeing are protected and they are motivated, and caring.

The service shows honesty and transparency from all levels of staff and leadership following an incident. This is shared with people using the service and their families in line with the duty of candour. The service ensures people are supported when incidents occur.

Some staff seem to lack the necessary skills, knowledge and experience they need to lead and inspire staff effectively. There needs to be a uniformity of standards across all of the units so that all staff are working to the same standard and to the same processes/quality assurance measures.

The service has a clear vision and set of values but leaders must make sure that these are promoted and understood by all staff and embedded into practice.

The organisation promotes equality and inclusion within its workforce and all staff have up to date equality and diversity training.

The Registered Manager understands their responsibilities and they are supported by the Regional Manager and the Provider to deliver what is required. There does however, need to be improvements around a more timely response to action plans and requests for actions to be taken. Staff work together to ensure that people receive consistent, timely, coordinated, person-centred care.

The Home has demonstrated achievement of this outcome.

14 - Quality Assurance

Determination - Substantially Met

The service maintains a log of whistleblowing, staff concerns, safeguarding and accidents or incidents and investigates each incident. However, some investigations and quality assurance systems need to be more robust in identifying trends and specific areas of concern. Better use of action plans could be used to aid this.

When incidents occur they are investigated but there could be better analysis to look for common themes and trends to ensure lessons are learned. Action is usually taken to drive improvement.

The service must ensure that its approach to quality is integral and robust and all staff are aware of potential risks that may compromise quality.

The service enables and encourage accessible open communication with all people who use the service including their family, friends, staff and representatives.

People's views and experiences are gathered and acted on to shape and improve the services and culture.

Resources and support is available to develop staff and teams and drive improvement, examples of these were provided by the manager.

Quality assurance systems are in place but need to be more robust to enable the service to evaluate and learn from current performance ensuring continuous improvement.

The service ensures that the delivery of care, treatment and support is in line with current local and national guidance.

The provider is accredited as standards are met or approaching standards in the DPST Toolkit.

The service monitors the quality of the service but does not always further act on findings.

The level of impact has been assessed as low – there is no or minimal impact on residents.

The likelihood that the impact will happen or recur has been assessed as possible – the impact may happen/recur but it is not a persistent issue.

15 - Complaints

Determination - Fully Met

People who use the service are provided with information on how to make a complaint or raise concerns and this is regularly promoted.

The complaints process is accessible, is easy for people to raise a concern or complaint and is encouraged.

There is a formal log of complaints which is kept up to date. Complaints are handled effectively with openness, transparency and confidentiality. The complainant receives regular updates, a timely response and an explanation of the outcome including the appeals process.

People who raise concerns or complaints are protected from discrimination, harassment or disadvantage and are supported throughout the process.

Concerns and complaints are used as an opportunity to learn and promote continuous improvement and examples of this were evidenced.
